

Three Peculiarities

Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier and regulating medicine, is characterized by three peculiarities, namely:

- 1st: The combination of the various remedial agents used.
- 2d: The proportion in which the roots, herbs, barks, etc., are mixed.
- 3d: The process by which the active medicinal properties are secured.

The result is a medicine of unusual strength and curative power, which effects cures heretofore unequalled. These peculiarities belong exclusively to Hood's Sarsaparilla, and are

LOCAL BRIEFS.

A BASKET has been placed in the window of the Wasatch Drug store with the following sign attached: "This basket for the poor children's Christmas tree; drop a pound of candy in it and see the kids laugh." This is good advice and should be heeded.

THE POLICE last night ran in J. Shoblum, Oief Erickson and J. Cronlund for refusing to pay a hack driver. The driver claims that he drove them around from 7.30 to 11 p.m., and they were liberal minded enough to offer to compromise by paying 25 cents.

They arrived a few days ago, and are more than pleased with the city, and will advise all their friends to do likewise.

J. W. SUMMERHAYS, who has just returned from a trip to Rexburg, Idaho, reports business as being in a very good condition there, all the stores being well satisfied with the condition of trade. Theatricals have been instituted in the hall over Duran & Winters' store, and the first performance was the time-honored Charcoal Burner.

THE WORKINGMEN'S Co-op. of the Fifteenth Ward, who are the pioneers here in the custom of allowing purchasers to share in their profits, state that they have paid customers over $1,000 on this plan during the last eighteen months. Mr. Arbutkie, the superintendent, states that the plan works very satisfactorily with them.

THE VOTERS of the Tenth School District met last night to vote on the proposition to levy a tax on the property of the district one-half of 1 per cent. for the purpose of maintaining a free school. The proposition was carried by a vote of 47 to 33, and the next term, which begins in January, sees the Tenth District in possession of a free school.

THE UTAH Commission has adjourned until April 1st, and the members are returning to their respective homes. G. L. Godfrey returned to Iowa a few days ago, A. B. Williams to Arkansas and J. A. BARNEY HARVEY has on exhibition a sectional view of the First National Mine, located in Iowa Gulch, Lake County, Colorado. It represents the mine in working order, and is made entirely of ore from the mine by its foreman. The piece is the property of General P. E. Connor and has been exhibited at the New Orleans Exhibition, Smithsonian Institute and a number of other places.

THE HORN Silver management will be changed on the first of the year. Mr. P. T. Farnsworth, of Beaver, succeeding Major Hill, who has manipulated the working of the mine for so many years. Mr. Farnsworth is an energetic business man, and it is thought that his policy will be to push out in new mine and attempt to bring the mine back to the excellent working order that existed of old.

COMTE D'ADHEMAR, president of the Comet Smelting Works Company, arrived in this city yesterday from Paris, accompanied by M. Sallandrouze de Lamoriniere, a stockholder in that company. The gentlemen are quartered at the Walker House, where they were met yesterday by Professor Sebbille, the manager of their company, who has just come up from the works. The three gentlemen will go south in a few days to inspect their plant at Copper Gulch, near Frisco, and when they return they will probably have something of interest to make public.

A SETTLEMENT MADE.

Meeting of the Creditors of the Price Mercantile Co.

A meeting was held at the Chamber of Commerce last night, to adjust the difficulties existing between D. J. Williams & Co. and their creditors. The history of the case is about as follows: In the fall of 1885, the above firm opened a general mercantile business at Price, in Emery County, and near the close of 1886 it incorporated under the name of the Price Mercantile Company, the corporation succeeding to the business, assets and liabilities of the firm. The company was at this time in straitened circumstances, and in February, 1887, it turned over all its merchandise, real estate and other assets to an agent of the creditors, nearly all of whom were merchants of this city; who had formed a sort of pool and appointed one of their number to effect a settlement. The pool was not satisfied with the settlement which had been made by its agent, and some rather intricate litigation followed. Mr. David Williams, formerly manager of the Denver & Rio Grande coal mines in Pleasant Valley, was the father of all the members of the firm of D. J. Williams & Co., and was their heaviest creditor. Last evening he met with all the other creditors residing in this city, and after an hour or two spent in discussing the matter, entered into an agreement to purchase all the claims against the Price Mercantile Company as a corporation, and D. J. Williams & Co. as a firm. The accounts purchased amount to a trifling over $5,000, and the effect of the transaction will be the dismissal of the pending suits.

A Settlement Affected.

CHICAGO, December 17.—The much tangled Bindauer litigation has finally been put in shape for settlement, by an agreement, entered into this afternoon by the present receiver and assignee to retire. A new receiver will be appointed by the circuit court and a new assignee by the county court. The receiver will collect and reduce to cash all the assets of the firm levied on by the sheriff. The proceeds will be held to await action by the Supreme Court regarding the jurisdiction of the county court. If the latter is sustained all funds will be turned over to the assignee. The settlement releases Receiver Kuppenheimer from jail, on the sentence imposed on him Saturday.

Tempest in a Teapot.

NEW ORLEANS, December 17.—A special dispatch from Columbus, Miss., to the Picayune, says: "Several gentlemen reached this city this morning from Artesia, bringing news of a wholesale slaughter of the constable's posse near Whallen, a small station on the Ohio & Mississippi Railway near Macon, Miss. On Friday last a negro and white boy got into a fight. The white boy's father attempted to separate them, when he was set upon by a negro boy and his father and terribly beaten. Yesterday the white man swore out a warrant for the negro's arrest, and Constable Seth Cobb went to the negro's house to execute it, when he was attacked by a number of negroes and beaten. He then summoned a posse of twelve men and went, yesterday evening, to arrest the negroes. The posse was fired upon from ambush and five were killed outright and six wounded, more or less seriously. The news spread rapidly, and the

NEGROES WERE STRONGLY REINFORCED.

Whallen telegraphed along the line, for help, and Mandan responded with about ninety-five well armed men.

They were joined at every station, and reaching Whallen, marched immediately to the scene of bloodshed. The negroes were barricaded and refused to surrender or give up the dead whites. At noon, the forces were about equal and what is the result no one knows. This afternoon news was received here that the negroes have retreated to the swamps and are stubborn, while non-combatant negroes are lying to the woods in terror. There is considerable excitement here, and new developments are awaited anxiously. Following is a list of the killed and wounded: Killed—Henry Murray, Seth Cobb, Tom Nicholson, Bill Vaughan and Bill Hare. Wounded—Frank Maury, Tom Giles, Bob Harper, H. L. Harper, John Dew, and Goff Thomas.

THE LATEST.

St. Louis, December 18.—A Republic special from Wabasha, received at 2 a. m., says but one man was killed—Constable Seth Cobb—while two were wounded, only one seriously.
